From Cincinnati—What I Know About Conventions

CINCINNATI May 3 The Liberal Republican Convention assembled this morning at 10 o'clock. The Committee on resolutions submitted a report which was adopted amid [illegible] cheering. The Chair stated that the next business in order was the nomination of a candidate for President.

Without formal presentation the roll of States was called with the following result

First ballot: Adams [illegible] Trumbull 108 Davis, 92½ Greeley 147 Brown [illegible] Curtin [illegible] Chase, 2½ Sumner 1

Before the vote was announced Gratz Brown with unanimous consent took the stand and thanked his friends for their support but withdrew his name and asked his friends to support Greeley. [Cheers with many persistent hisses] A number of delegates changed their votes and the Chairman announced the result

Fifth ballot—Adams 309 Greeley [illegible] Trumbull [illegible] Davis 81 Chase 24 Brown 2

The result of the fifth ballot was read amid cheering by the friends of Adams

The sixth ballot was received amid confusion. Greeley gained six in Georgia and ten in Indiana. The announcement was received with cheering on the one side and hisses on the other. The Illinois delegation withdrew for consultation. When they returned they announced [illegible] for Adams and [illegible] for Greeley. McClure changed Pennsylvania to 50 for Greeley. Indiana changed to 27 for Adams, and Illinois changed to Greeley. A stampede of changes now occurred but the noise and confusion made it impossible to hear them. The chair finally announced the whole vote 714 necessary to a choice 358 Greeley 482 Adams [illegible] balance scattering

On the final vote California Oregon and Nevada cast their entire vote for Greeley. Greeley's original strength was confined chiefly to the Southern States. New York which adhered to him throughout was almost unanimous.

The Convention then proceeded to nominate a candidate for Vice President. Gratz Brown, Trumbull, Cassius M Clay, Julian, Tipton and others were nominated. Trumbull, Cox and Clay were withdrawn. Gov Brown was nominated on the second ballot receiving 425 votes. A Committee was appointed to inform the candidates of his nomination after which the customary resolutions of thanks were passed and the Convention adjourned sine die.

After adjournment Schurz and Julian were called out and made short speeches.

Discontent Among the Victims

CINCINNATI May 3 The Liberal Convention is declared a failure. Many influential delegates denounce the result bitterly as a fraudulent sell out of the principles on which the Convention was called. The protectionists laugh at the platform. The free traders denounce both platform and candidates.

Schurz made a bitter speech to the Missouri delegation after the adjournment against the bargain between Greeley and Gratz Brown for the nominations. It is well understood to be the result of a combination between them consummated last night with the aid of Frank Blair. The majority of the Ohio delegation say openly that they will support Grant unless the Democrats nominate Adams on a similarly honest platform. This sentiment is wide spread in the West. The purpose of the bargain it is said was to save the tariff and advance the political fortunes of Greeley and Brown. The cause of revenue reform is considered slaughtered and the chief principles of the Missouri platform sacrificed.

How Greeley's Nomination is Received

NEW YORK May 4—On the reception of the news of Greeley's nomination a large crowd gathered around the Tribune office and Greeley was called out but he declined to speak. One hundred guns were fired in the City Hall Park in his honor.

The Express says old White hat will take a large portion of the Republican party with him and says that the Democrats will indorse the nomination.

The nomination elicits various opinions. Some declare the Convention a failure; others claim that Greeley has a strong hold on the masses and general amnesty will give him great strength. The Republican Liberal Committee will serenade him to-night and next week a ratification meeting will be held.

CHICAGO May 4—The Tribune editorially endorses the Cincinnati ticket and asserts that the nomination of Greeley is the work of the people against politicians. It predicts that he will carry—with one or two exceptions—all the Southern and Southwestern States and New York and Pennsylvania and at least three of the New England States.

The Times (Democratic) says the nomination is surprising and amusing. It declares the Convention a failure in immediate results. Whether it is one that can be relied on is yet a question which it intimates a belief that the Democratic National Convention will decide.

The Cincinnati Commercial (independent) endorses the nominations of Greeley and Brown at the same time expressing the opinion that Adams or Trumbull would have been better and reserving the right in case there is a Democratic nomination to support the strongest Republican candidate, whoever he may be.

The Enquirer says that the platform is splendid and the ticket strong and believes that Democrats will support both.

The Gazette (Republican) ridicules the Convention and the results of its labors and believes the Democrats will have nothing to do with it.

The Commercial reports that Pendleton and Hendricks both announced their intention to support the ticket and says the latter will be a candidate on the Liberal Republican ticket for Governor of Indiana.

DETROIT May 4—The Free Press (Democratic) says Greeley is a strong man with whom to demoralize the Republican party. It considers the chance for the Democracy assured if its Convention makes strong nominations and a sound platform.

The Post derides the nomination of Greeley and says it not only affects the Republican party but utterly ruins the prospects of Democrats.

The Tribune and Republican say that the most sanguine friends of the Liberal movement regret Greeley's nomination and regard his selection as a public calamity.

MEMPHIS May 4—The nominations of the Cincinnati Convention are almost universally regarded as the strongest possible. The Avalanche and Appeal heartily endorse and will support the ticket.

NEW YORK May 4—The Journal of Commerce thinks the Democrats cannot support the Cincinnati nominations and intimates the belief that they were made for the purpose of forcing the Philadelphia Convention to endorse them or throw the election into the hands of the Democrats.

Fire in Hudson, Wisconsin

CHICAGO May 4 A fire broke out at Hudson Wisconsin yesterday evening in the basement of Chapin Hall. It rapidly spread destroying the hotel and its contents with eight or ten business houses and a large portion of their stocks. The total loss is estimated at $135 000. An old man named Connelly was burned to death in the hotel.

WASHINGTON CITY

WASHINGTON May 4 The New York Herald's Washington special says that at a Cabinet meeting the reply from the English Government in reference to the negative principle of international law which Secretary Fish had brought himself to be willing to accept as a condition of our release is so exceedingly unsatisfactory to this Government that probably there will be no back down after all and the position assumed by the President at first will be maintained.

The President approved the supplementary bill to incorporate the Texas Pacific Railroad.

The Moniteur [illegible] says that the Czar has accepted Gortschakoff's resignation. Valuieff succeeds him as Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The Revolution in Spain

[illegible] May 3—Spanish advices contradict recent Madrid dispatches in regard to the Carlist insurrection. It is positively asserted that Carlos is in Spain and at the headquarters of the volunteers and Alphonso is with him. There is great uneasiness in Madrid. The fidelity of the troops even in the Capital is doubted. Precaution is taken to confine the regiments to barracks. The Carlists meanwhile hold the field in respectable force and are able to disconcert the troops, while new [illegible] are still reported.

Castellar writes to De Raphael that the Republican members of the Cortes will shortly resign.

Vesuvius Quiet—Races—Gortschakoff Resigned

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO May 4—Deaths in the city this week 7[illegible]

Maria Concepcion Madrugal de Juarez a native of Mexico aged 11[illegible] years attended the May festival of Presentation Convent in this city. She is in perfect health bodily and mentally.

The body of Mrs Borree who left the supper table of her family on Montgomery street so mysteriously April 23d was found in the Bay. No doubt she committed suicide while under a sudden attack of insanity.

The increase of wealth by the incorporation of mining companies to-day aggregated $10 900 000. The two largest incorporations are Ledarberg Gold Mining Company, First South Extension Greenwood District, Eldorado county California capital $4 400 000 and Monitor Belmont Mining Company Philadelphia District, Nevada capital $5 000 000.

Weather unpleasantly chilly and windy.

Stock sales to-day in regular Board single session, only aggregated 10 709 shares. The fall in prices does not result in a rush to sell but on the contrary an increase in the number of buyers every time.

A novel case was before our Courts on Monday. Matthew T[illegible] having been summoned to attend an inquest by the Coroner refused to attend and thereupon the Coroner placed him under arrest on a charge of contempt. There is a dispute as to whether the Coroner has power to make such an order and the matter will now be definitely settled.

The Committee of One Hundred will report the result of their conference on the counter proposition of the St Louis delegation at 3 o'clock on Monday morning. The delegation has gone to Belmont to spend Sunday with Ralston.

The trial of the Babcock fire extinguisher on the Plaza drew a crowd of about 8 000 persons. A two story frame house well saturated with coal oil and tar and filled with shavings was lighted and made a beautiful fire. A stream thrown on from the extinguisher had no perceptible effect.

Judge Dwinelle sustained the demurrer to the complaint in the case of Drake against Sheriff Adams for the collection of illegal fees.

The California Eleven propose to sail for Victoria on the Prince Alfred May 20th to play the British Columbians at cricket.

The St Louis delegation propose to leave for the East on Tuesday next.

The opera failed last night, the orchestra and chorus having struck for pay and refused to finish a note unless coin was forthcoming. The audience dispersed disgusted.

The police are engaged in the investigation of the supposed outrage on a young woman in the western part of the city on Thursday night. Neither the girl nor the man with her in the carriage are yet identified.

Weather unpleasant, high northwest wind, fog and dust.

A large proportion of the population are going out of town on excursions and picnics to-day.

There appears to be a disposition on the part of our citizens to accept the counter proposition of the St Louis delegation with perhaps some modifications. It is believed that with the proper safeguards for the city's interests a single company for the entire line may be able to operate to a better advantage than two while the amount required of San Francisco is less than under that of the Committee of One Hundred.

The Japanese Special Commissioner Kayouri Yoshida and General George B Williams and suite left for Washington overland this morning.

The Crown Point Ravine Mining Company have levied an assessment of $5 per share.

SALT LAKE May 4—A convention of spirit mediums will be held in this city to-morrow.

The Herald (Mormon) says Greeley and Brown is a strong ticket and if the Democrats indorse it Horace will be the next President.

The Tribune (Liberal) says it will be a complete resuscitation of Democratic power in the event of the success of Greeley for fusion once made thereafter the two parties will be only Democratic.

The Mormon Conference South began yesterday.

Nearly $[illegible]00 000 silver bullion was received last week and shipped East.

From Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE May 4—Attorney General Williams arrived last night from Washington and was serenaded this evening and is now addressing quite a large audience. He will remain a short time in Southern Oregon before going north and is announced to address the citizens of this valley at Jacksonville next Saturday the 11th instant.

The Republican primaries passed off harmoniously in this county to-day and it is the evident intention to run a straight Republican ticket.

Weather pleasant, with no present prospect of rain.

The Boston Traveler has a thorough appreciation of the humbug reform movement. According to a very high political authority it says: "A good cry is a great thing in political warfare and our disaffected Republicans recognizing the soundness of the view taken by Disraeli's Mr Taper have got up a cry that they expect will prove supremely good and yet commit them to nothing. Our Reform party as it calls itself cannot look for even the hope of success unless the Democrats should support them and the Democratic party is the very fountain of Rings and it desires to get back its power chiefly because it knows that the General Government now has six times as much spoil at its disposal as it had when they were driven from it. Reform in fact is a word so vague that it has any meaning or no meaning according to the man who uses it. Nobody knows exactly what reform means, but the meaning of the reformers is plain enough: it is to get power and place and to obtain possession of the spoils and to use them selfishly and corruptly."

A tri-weekly hack is soon to run between Albany and Yaquina Bay. It will doubtless be a great convenience to excursionists.

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO May [illegible] Weather clear and cool. Wind northwest.

The funeral of the late F J A [illegible] was attended by almost the entire French population and many other citizens. The French military and Masonic fraternity escorted the remains to the cemetery. Pending the decision of relatives in France as to sending the remains to that country for interment they were placed in the vault in the Masonic cemetery.

A number of capitalists miners and business men leave for Schell Creek this week. Dispatches received Friday speak of extensive discoveries of silver ore carrying considerable gold in that district within a few days.

Dan Madden was chucked out of a saloon on Kearney street this evening. He fell broke his leg and was taken to the hospital.

Arrived—Steamship Alaska from Panama. She touched at Cape St Lucas and took on a number of families who were compromised in the late revolutionary outbreak at Mazatlan. She brings over 400 passengers and a very heavy freight. The latest news that can be obtained does not confirm the report of the capitulation by the Federals.

Nearly everybody has been out on excursions of some kind to-day and the streets have seemed almost deserted.

It is reported that a woman was shot accidentally at Harbor View to-day while a German company was engaged in target shooting. She was not fatally injured.

COMPARATIVE MERIT

THE ACCUSER AND THE ACCUSED

[From the New York Times]

Now that Mr Greeley makes no secret of his ambition to become President of the United States it might be well to consider in what respect his claims are greater than those of Gen Grant. A candidate for the highest office in the gift of the people certainly ought to have done something to deserve it and without having any desire whatever to belittle the achievements of Mr Greeley we are reluctantly compelled to say that, outside of journalism it would have been better for the country if he had left undone everything that he has done. His overweening vanity has made him the cat's paw of many unscrupulous politicians and has placed him over and over again in positions that would be humiliating in the last degree to any other man. Look, for instance, at the figure he cut during the rebellion. Presumedly an Abolitionist, he warmly advocated a separation of the States, which, if successful, would have perpetuated the very system he so strongly condemned. On the 9th of November 1860, he wrote in the Tribune:

"If the cotton States shall become satisfied that they can do better out of the Union than in it, we insist on letting them go in peace. The right to secede may be a revolutionary one, but it exists nevertheless * * * We must ever resist the right of any State to remain in the Union and nullify or defy the laws thereof. To withdraw from the Union is quite another matter. Whenever a considerable section of our Union shall deliberately resolve to go out, we shall resist all coercive measures designed to keep it in." This is a fair sample of what Mr Greeley did to convince Southern people of their mistake. On the 26th of the same month and year he gave still further evidence of his love for the Constitution in this way: "If the cotton States unitedly and earnestly wish to withdraw peacefully from the Union we think they should and would be allowed to do so. Any attempt to compel them by force to remain would be contrary to the principles enunciated in the immortal Declaration of Independence—contrary to the fundamental idea upon which human liberty is based." Surely it does not take a very extraordinary effort of the imagination to see what would have been the result had Mr Greeley been permitted to have his own way in settling the difficulty. As a matter of course he would have allowed Mr Jefferson Davis and his followers to establish a Republic of their own. In view of this fact it seems rather odd that he should now be so anxious to make us believe that he did not go out of his way to shake hands with Jeff Davis during his Southern stumping tour. If he had thought that the cotton States had the right to withdraw and that it was no treason for Mr Davis to be at the head of the movement why should he be so sensitive at the mere statement that he had been put to some trouble in order to receive the greetings of one in whose actions he could discover no wrong?

It does not usually take as long as two years to effect a complete change in Mr Greeley's opinions but singular enough we find that he remained faithful to the disunion principle down to the 23d of February 1862. On that day there appeared in the Tribune an article in which it was said: "Whenever it shall be clear that the great body of the Southern people have become conclusively alienated from the Union and anxious to escape from it we will do our best to forward their views." He still thought that the war waged against the South was an unjust war and sought by every means in his power to put an end to it. This is the way in which he aided our soldiers in their battles and helped to preserve the Union of the States.

Now it would be ridiculous to talk about consistency in connection with such a man for if there is any one thing for which he can pride himself most it is upon his utter lack of it. At the same time it might not be inappropriate to reproduce a line or two from his article of the 9th of November 1860: "We hope," said Mr Greeley, "never to live in a Republic whereof one section is pinned to another by bayonets." Five years later Secretary Stanton wrote to Gen Dix and announced the surrender of Lee to Grant and the collapse of the rebellion. What did Greeley do then? Did he pack up his traps and leave for a more congenial clime? Nothing of the sort, he joined the ranks of those who rushed forward so eagerly to do honor to Gen Grant for having saved the Union that he Mr Greeley had done so much to destroy. But the most astounding inconsistency of all is his candidacy for the office of Chief Magistrate of the Republic "pinned together by bayonets," in which he hoped so fervently never to live.

France and Germany

The telegraphic reports have been conflicting in regard to the complications between France and Germany but the following special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune would seem to indicate that Germany is in earnest in her demands that France shall not recuperate her army to a war footing.

London papers received to-day plainly foreshadow a renewal of trouble between France and Germany. A Berlin letter of March 30th, to the London Times states that Thiers' recent speeches felicitating the nation on the rapid recuperation of the French army boasting of the superiority of French arms and cannon and saying if Protestantism rallies round Prussia France is the natural protector of Catholicism, have attracted a wrathful attention in Germany. Thiers' remarks in an interview with a contributor to La Patria and his speech at the adjournment of the Assembly are pointed to as most sinister. Bismarck is exasperated by Thiers' assertion to a correspondent that Prussia intends to make war on Russia with the remaining three milliards of the war indemnity, indicating the desire of Thiers to embroil Russia and Prussia. Thiers' operations of reorganizing the army will, it is said, give France almost immediately an army numbering over one million and a half, a strength the German army will not attain before 1880. Thiers plan reorganizes the artillery with 2 700 guns, while Prussia has but 1 900. The Berlin letter alluded to says Bismarck seeks to avoid war as long as possible, but his policy will anticipate his adversary's. He will endeavor to convince France of the futility of her schemes, or else impede their realization.

The London Times of April 4th says editorially:

From the letter we publish this morning and from that of our Parisian correspondent yesterday it will be easily seen what deplorable eagerness those two nations, which are yet hardly recovering from their recent struggle, are bent on 'maintaining peace by preparing for war.' Germany hardly considers herself a match for her lately vanquished enemy because she can bring no more than 1,250,000 men and 1,900 cannon into the field, while the available strength of the French Republic will soon, German strategists calculate, be raised to 1,600,000 men and 2,700 pieces of artillery. On the other hand, in order to muster this force, France will not only have to draft her able-bodied youth into the ranks but will not even be able to spare the one eyed, hunch backed, halt and lame, the exception being made only in favor of idiots and cripples. We thought we had heard sufficient before 1870 of the superiority of the Chassepot over the needle-gun of the high intelligence, and of all other excellent qualities of French men and officers, but M Thiers dwells with new emphasis on the old invidious theme. Why should the army, which ought to have conquered yesterday, and which is sure to conquer to-morrow, be left smarting under the sense of unmerited defeat? In that question lies all the danger. M Thiers may well proclaim before the whole world that he is only arming for peace. The world knows that the proof of an armament is in war.

A Plea for Specialities in Medicine.

THAT THOUSANDS SUFFER PAIN FOR A [illegible] of years, (and waste a life [illegible] to be [illegible]) who with proper treatment might not only be restored to health themselves, but [illegible] to the happiness of others, is too evident a fact to require [illegible] proof. This arises from the fact that the requisite skill is not [illegible] found or the general practitioner has too little time to inform himself of the rapid improvements in medicine and surgery, as a whole, and still less time and [illegible] for observations of a large class of [illegible] complaints. Thus, no man can become an expert in every branch of the healing art, and hence specialties are demanded for the highest good of suffering humanity. And thus it is that [illegible] in this country and in Europe are devoting their best energies to the study of Special D[illegible], and to them, patients are naturally beginning to look for relief in all cases which have [illegible] the skill of general practitioners; they have [illegible] persuaded that long study and [illegible] special [illegible] must result in a [illegible] and [illegible] means of cure.

Such has been Dr Aborn's long and patient study of diseases of the eye, ear, throat, lungs and chest and so fortunate his discoveries of new [illegible] and new applications of old ones, as have resulted in unparalleled success in that class of diseases, and secured him an enviable reputation throughout the Union. A new hope for cure not unfrequently [illegible] up to the bravest of the most despairing invalid on visiting his office and [illegible] the evidences—in numerous testimonials—of remarkable cures by him performed.

It is rare indeed that one medical man [illegible] attainments to enter a medical college and occupy more than one professional chair, and to perfect [illegible] in the branch of his choice requires all his time and energy, to the exclusion of all others. Hence the [illegible] of one going out from college after a brief [illegible] of study to successfully engage in the practice or [illegible] of all branches of medicine. The little that he has learned of them all collectively must [illegible] as little, if he attempts to progress in the knowledge of them all thereafter.

This is so evident, that the time is not far distant—in fact the day is dawning now—when every [illegible] physician will devote his attention to one or more particular branches or in other words will have his specialty in medicine or surgery. Progress in [illegible] and surgery has always met with opposition from their own practitioners and probably ever will, unless physicians as a class come to entertain more liberal and [illegible], and cease to be uncharitable toward one another. It is a trite remark—founded upon long observation—that physicians are more prone to decry their brethren than any other class of professional men.

A physician who is [illegible] attending to acute and febrile diseases at the [illegible], cannot have so [illegible] experience in the treatment of chronic cases; nor can any one who remains in his office [illegible] exclusively, have any [illegible] in [illegible] acute [illegible]. These are [illegible] or self-evident [illegible] that require neither argument or [illegible] illustration.

Now, whilst Dr Aborn is willing to [illegible] that he who treats fevers and other [illegible] is more successful in such cases than [illegible], yet he begs leave to claim like superiority in the treatment of certain diseases to which he has devoted [illegible] for a series of years.

Dr Aborn, standing upon strict medical etiquette towards his medical brethren, never [illegible] himself to [illegible] ill of the fraternity, nor officiously engaged [illegible] a patient from seeking advice from any physician that may be his choice. This being a free country Dr Aborn holds that a man has a right to consult whom he pleases, and to think and judge for himself, and form his own conclusions. Hence if a patient consults him and does not feel disposed to take his [illegible] he does not volunteer gratuitous advice as to [illegible] he should, or should not apply. There is quite too much of this [illegible] unmanly conduct among the profession, but from [illegible] Dr Aborn intends to hold himself in the future as in the past entirely aloof.

In reference to, and in [illegible] of, his course in "advertising," Dr Aborn feels justified in saying this much, that having devoted his entire time to the study and treatment of a few chronic diseases, and having attained a success unparalleled in their treatment, he would be false to his humanity, were he not to make these facts known. The simple fact that "quacks" and "humbugs" (so-called) do advertise, does not militate against the propriety of sound, scientific and [illegible] practitioners likewise using the columns of the [illegible].

Moreover there are perhaps but few intelligent medical men who are unwilling to admit that there are quacks and humbugs in the [illegible] of medicine, who are located too, and yet do not advertise their [illegible]. However nearly every physician has his peculiar method of advertising himself. Surely it is legitimate to advertise a specialty in medicine, if honestly and honorably done, and especially if the [illegible] to treat such cases with unusual success. It is to use the same means to bring into notice an improved and labor-saving agricultural implement. By so doing the specialist benefits suffering humanity by informing them where they can be cured of their maladies, that have perhaps for years or a life-time resisted ordinary modes of treatment, and the mechanic, perchance relieves the husbandman of his burdens and lightens the toils of his helpmeet, woman. Thus an intelligent and unprejudiced mind readily approves progress and improvement in everything.

The Work at Cincinnati

[illegible]

Mr [illegible] abstract cast who [illegible] physi[illegible] sense [illegible] Greeley and [illegible] represent the whole stock of [illegible] They have [illegible] yet they belong to opp[illegible] tween them he [illegible] crude theories [illegible] tied doctrines all half de[illegible] notions and whatever else [illegible] theoretical in the field of politics or [illegible] society at large

The Convention by which this ticket was nominated was a confused mass [illegible] ents which never could [illegible] As a consequence the platform [illegible] singular piece of political mechan[illegible] this country has ever seen The administration which it would create would be of a [illegible] it Burke's celebrated description of [illegible]ham's Ministry could no more than do justice to it — He made an administration so checkered and speckled he put together a piece of joinery so crossly intended and whimsically dovetailed a cabinet so variously inlaid such a piece of diversified mosaic such a tesselated pavement without cement here a bit of black stone and there a bit of white patriots and courtiers king's friends and republicans whigs and tories treacherous friends and open enemies that indeed it was a very curious show but utterly unsafe to touch and unsure to stand on. Persons had a single office divided between them who had never spoken to each other in their lives, until they found themselves they knew not how pigging together heads and points in the same truckle bed Such is this platform and such is the administration that would come into power upon it if success could be achieved by a coalition with the Democratic party

We are told by the telegraph that protectionists laugh at the platform, and free traders denounce both platform and candidates It is no wonder Greeley is a dogmatic protectionist, Gratz Brown is a theoretical free trader To suit both descriptions they have invented a subterfuge by which they declare that the issue of protection and free trade is not to be considered in the Presidential election but is to be fought out in the election of Congressmen A most ludicrous position It will be scouted by the common sense of the country Such a medley of ill assorted and ill paired doctrines as make up the body of the platform cannot but excite derision

This Convention and its results will be a week's wonder, and will then begin to pass into forgetfulness Of course the main reliance of its managers is the Democratic vote But we believe that a ticket distinctively Democratic will be put in the field Such a t[illegible] would undoubtedly get the vote of the whole Democratic party The Republican party will be represented at Philadelphia next month Its candidates nominated there will be supported by nineteen twentieths of the Republicans of the whole country The Cincinnati candidates unless they get the Democratic vote will be nowhere And if an attempt is made to surrender the Democratic party to Greeley and Brown, it will be found that, as a result of the disruption of their party multitudes of Democrats will support Grant Far more Democrats will vote for Grant than Republicans for Greeley The Republican sentiment of the country is satisfied with Grant's administration and its results None but the most petty and contemptible reasons can be given for the Cincinnati movement and the candidacy of Greeley and Brown Hence but a small number of Republicans or those who call themselves such will go with this movement As for Democrats they will vote for their own candidates or if no Democratic candidates offer, they will divide their votes between other candidates, or remain at home

We predict, however a straight Democratic ticket We predict as a next step the dissolution and abandonment of this Cincinnati movement It is the play of 1864 over again

The Campaign

Our intelligence from different parts of the State indicates unanimity and harmony among Republicans There is every reason to hope that we shall in most places do better than we did two years ago All Republicans support Wilson with enthusiasm and except in one county where there has been some controversy over the county clerkship there is no disagreement with reference to county nominations Wilson is making a splendid canvass, and in most localities will gain on his vote of two years since The Democrats having no national party and seeing nothing to contend for lack the spirit and aggressive energy they have formerly shown If the Republicans of Multnomah do as well as they did two years ago Wilson will certainly be elected On that occasion his majority in this county was four hundred It should exceed five hundred next month and it will, if all Republicans do their duty

> The unity of the (Republican) party is gone its brains are out, its moral worth and patriotism have departed and with these go its prestige and strength —Herald

This is rather an old story We heard it when we lost Chase it was repeated when we lost Seward it has been re-echoed times without number The same thing was said when the Fremont movement in 1864 filled the Democracy with such lively hopes The country is growing its young men are coming up and the Republican party constantly gets new supplies of brains and moral worth and patriotism Think you the Republican party cannot get on as well without Greeley and Trumbull as it got on without Seward and Chase? That a little defection of soured politicians is harder to survive than the loss of the Johnson administration and the tremendous influence it turned against the Republican party

The electoral ticket that was nominated at the Dalles is composed of [illegible] Democrats If our Democratic brethren are going to support Greeley and Brown a due regard for the fitness of things demands that this ticket be withdrawn and a Liberal Republican electoral ticket nominated with Jasper Johnson at the head

The New York T[illegible] thinks that if Mr Greeley were not so forgetful of his past utterances he might take warning from what he himself said of the invincibility of Gen Grant during the Presidential canvass in 1868 We are told [illegible] remarked Mr Greeley by him who first taught our armies to conquer in the West and subsequently in the East also Richmond would not come to us until we sent Grant after it and then it had to come [Cheers] He has never yet been defeated [illegible] He will be as great and successful on the field of politics as in that of arms

Said Carl Schurz in 1869 when his chances for election to the U S Senate were jeopardized by local dissensions in the Republican ranks To become a tool in the hands of the common enemy is about the lowest point of political respectability a member of the Republican party can reach whatever his personal grievances may be Is there no significance in this now?

Jasper Johnson who never voted a Republican ticket in his life went to Cincinnati as a Liberal Republican and cast the vote of Oregon for Horace Greeley Since Jasper didn't even represent himself in this act and since not another person in Oregon avows sympathy with the Cincinnati movement we are not a little puzzled to discover Jasper's constituency

It is curious to note how the Herald talks of the Cincinnati nominees It praises them in a general way yet studiously refrains from pledging them its support It says that Grant will be beaten by Greeley or somebody else thus leaving itself an opportunity to support a Democrat or to jump on the Greeley car as future circumstances may determine

Senator Scott of Pennsylvania has recently been proposed as candidate for Vice President on the ticket with Grant It is believed that his nomination would add great strength to the Republican party in Pennsylvania

Patronage and Civil Service

The Sacramento [illegible] in an article on the civil service rules and their application says

If we were to examine these regulations with reference to their political effect we must discover that instead of strengthening a party they weaken it The men already holding Federal positions have little or no influence in a political canvass because it is known that they work if at all for [illegible] their own retention And in the coming campaign they are forbidden to ass[illegible] themselves to render assistance Besides they are told by Grant himself that political activity is not [illegible]mendation The incentive of the [illegible] is therefore reduced down to self support in office And there is no incentive for the thousands of outs to make any extra exertions or go to any expense to save the party unless they are permeated by the highest convictions of public duty No matter how much an outside Republican may do in the campaign and how little a officer may perform the latter is to be retained and even promoted while the former [illegible] nothing and not even commendation for his zeal It is plain that one of the strongest [illegible] sons—selfish as it may be called—for politicians to work disseminate documents get up meetings and pay the expenses [illegible] and get out voters is gone and in a close contest victory may perch on the other side in consequence A great deal may be said on both sides of this civil service reform question but a party that expects to get as much work from its members [illegible] deprived of hope of reward for their services will in the nature of things be liable to disappointment

Horace Greeley closes up [illegible] manifesto with the following paragraph Such is our position and it will not be affected by the nomination of A or B C or D at Cincinnati Philadelphia or elsewhere The Indianapolis [illegible] Journal says this settles the matter so far as Adams Brown Chase and Davis are concerned but thinks the fact that Horace didn't carry his speculations up to G[illegible] is significant to say the least of it

The Democrats of Idaho county nominated H A Tinkham and Phil Cleary for the Assembly H B Sinclair for Sheriff [illegible] F Mor[illegible] for Auditor and Recorder Richard Hurley for Treasurer Jeff Rhode for Assessor and Tax Collector Levi May for Probate Judge Raymond baux for Superintendent of Public Instruction Charles Schneide for Surveyor J J Manue[illegible] for Coroner and George Church for County Clerk

NARROW ESCAPE FROM [illegible].—While the party of excursionists [illegible] at Corn[illegible] on Saturday [illegible] the daughter of Mr J[illegible] narrowly escaped being burned [illegible] brush [illegible] appears [illegible] to the ground [illegible] set on the Saturday morning [illegible] reached the grounds was [illegible] little girl with a [illegible] pail [illegible] be cr[illegible] get some water [illegible] stopped [illegible] around [illegible] her dress caught [illegible] the water she made [illegible] her [illegible] were in flames. [illegible] endeavored to [illegible] extinguish the flames by throwing water [illegible] shoulder. Finding the flames were gaining [illegible] dropped the bucket and ran [illegible] the wind. Prof Royal and [illegible] gentleman attempted [illegible] with their hands and a blanket, but finding that the child would be burned to death before this could be accomplished, they tore and cut the clothes off. The shoulders of the little girl were severely burned as were the hands of the two gentlemen. The escape was very narrow and but for the [illegible] and presence of mind of the gentlemen the child would inevitably have burned to death. She is aged about nine years, and her parents reside in this city.

DEATH OF EPHRAIM H. DAY.—Mr Ephraim H Day died at his residence in this city yesterday at half past 1 o'clock, of paralysis. He was taken slightly ill on Wednesday night but the stroke was not felt until Thursday morning. From that time until his death he was conscious only at intervals. Mr Day is one of the old pioneers of this city having come to Portland at an early day. In 1850 he kept a store at the corner of Stark and Front streets in partnership with Captain Joseph Myrick. Subsequently he was largely interested in mining operations in Eastern Oregon, Idaho and Cariboo. He acted for some time as purser on board one of the O S N Co's boats. For the last year he was one of the clerks in the Quartermaster's Department. In the social relations of life Mr Day was a sober intelligent citizen, a kind husband, a genial companion and a true friend. His business qualities were characteristic for exactness, punctuality and unswerving honesty. In his sudden death society and the community have suffered an irreparable loss. He was stricken down in the pride and strength of manhood being in his thirty ninth year—and in the midst of a career of usefulness. He leaves a wife and many friends to mourn a loss which death has occasioned, and which time can never [illegible].

BASE BALL.—A game of base ball was indulged in yesterday between Hose Companies No 1 and 3. The ground chosen was the bottom beyond the railroad trestle in East Portland. There appeared to be a scarcity of umpires—no less than five discharging that duty during the game. One young man came out with a portion of his clothing in a badly demoralized condition. At times there was some brilliant playing, and the best of feeling existed between the two companies. At the end of the fifth inning the game closed, the result standing Hose Company No 1, 17 runs and 15 outs. Hose Company No 3, 43 runs and 15 outs. All were satisfied with the game, if its results were a little discomfiting to the side which was defeated, as rules of fairness were strictly observed in the playing.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE.—The Committee to whom had been referred the preparations for the suitable reception of Attorney General Williams have completed all the arrangements. As it will probably be some days before the arrival of Mr Williams, there will be an abundance of time in which to mature such extensive plans as will insure a reception befitting his honorable and exalted judicial position in the nation. The Committee will timely notify the public so that all our citizens may have an opportunity to turn out and manifest their appreciation of his past services and acknowledge the honors which have been conferred on the State by his appointment.

LIST OF PASSENGERS.—The steamer Idaho sailed from San Francisco for this port on last Saturday. She brings the following passengers: Samuel Guthrie, John West, E H Tully, J R Wright and family, J E Galbreath, Mrs M Dalrymple, N Bartlett, S D Baker, Mrs H Coulson, Mrs J H Brown and child, Miss S A Harrison, J Neppard, H T Sloan, M Kearnes, W Lord and wife, Wm Marvin, A Hawley, R Anderson, L Newman, Mrs C Frennfetter, H A Rust and family, R Grant, Mrs J H Dickinson and three daughters, Miss Ellen West, Mrs T Z Smith, N B Namar, Frank Coleman, E J Hughes, L Lachman and wife, A M Tichnor, wife and four children.

THAT CANOE.—That canoe of Joe Teal's to which attention has been called before, was completed and launched on Saturday afternoon. A large crowd of spectators witnessed the craft "take the water." She floated off like a thing of beauty, but was a little unsteady like the nerves of her owner. If Joe and his friend Burnett don't capsize that craft in traveling toward the head of Salt River it will be a wonder. But that won't make much difference as Joe is a water fowl and John ain't of much use to the party except to be used as a figure head.

RELIGIOUS NOTICES.—To day, to morrow and the following day are rogation days appointed by the Catholic Church for a devout preparation to the feast of Ascension and Pentacost, and also to beg and supplicate the blessings of God on the fruits of the earth. Next Tuesday the Church celebrates the feast of Ascension. This being a feast of obligation, Masses will be said at 5 45, 8 and 10 o'clock A M, and the usual devotion and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at 8 o'clock in the evening.

EXERCISES OMITTED.—The usual Missionary Concert exercises were omitted at the Taylor street M. E Sunday school yesterday. Some special exercises were introduced on the occasion. Short addresses were made by Rev W H Meisee of the Hall-street school, H H Northrup of the Congregational school, Rev G P Weaver of the Lutheran school, Major H M Robert of the Baptist school and William Wadhams, of the Presbyterian school.

WASHINGTON GUARD PICNIC.—We are informed by Captain Mills that this company have determined to hold their annual picnic on the 23d instant, with the proviso that the weather proves auspicious on that day. Extensive preparations will be made. It is intended to eclipse anything in the picnic excursion line ever given by this popular company. Particulars and programme will be published in time.

INSTALLATION.—At the regular meeting of Concordia Grove No 1 U A O D held last Friday night, the following elected officers were installed by D D Alb Jubitz: N A, Morris Zell; V A., G Niemeyer; C Secretary, Julius Erfurt; F. Secretary, Andrew Sailing; Treasurer, A Legrand; I G, Fred Hatchock.

PRAISE MEETING.—A large number of persons were present at the First Congregational Church last evening at the praise meeting. The most attractive feature of the exercises was the singing, which was excellently rendered considering the fact that the performers were generally juvenile [illegible].

ON THE WAY.—The Japanese jugglers are now performing at Olympia. They are on their way to this city and will be here in a short time. This troupe is a novelty in the show line and will no doubt draw well for a short season. Some of their [illegible] and feats of jugglery are said to be wonderful.

ENLARGED.—The Oregon Deutsche Zeitung in an enlarged and improved condition, has been laid on our table. It presents a very neat appearance, and is such a paper of which our German citizens ought to feel proud. C A Landenberger proprietor and P Schulze editor.

NATIONAL SHOOTING FESTIVAL.—The Abend Zeitung says that the North German Consul in San Francisco Mr Duisenberg publishes a card in which he announces that the Fourth National German Festival will be held in Hanover this year.

PERSONAL.—A private dispatch from Attorney General Williams who is now at Jacksonville states that it is uncertain when he will reach here. Probably it will be ten days hence. He will make speeches at several points in southern Oregon.

FIRE AND NO ALARM.—The dwelling house of Mr. A Stewart, at the corner of Second and Oak took fire on Saturday afternoon. A hose was attached to a fire plug and the fire extinguished without an alarm being sounded.

THE EXCURSION TO CORNELIUS.—Pursuant to notice, the pupils in attendance at the Portland Academy, accompanied by the teachers and numerous parents and friends, took the cars on last Saturday morning for a picnic excursion to Cornelius. The weather was a little cloudy and threatening and many were prevented from attending on that account. Still about 200 persons composed the party of excursionists. The ground chosen was a grove near Cornelius. It was a very pleasant party, the only drawback to the enjoyment was the damp ground and the raw sea breezes which came whistling up from old Neptune across the passes. This effectually chilled the ardor of the excursionists and destroyed the most enjoyable feature of the occasion. The party left the grounds in the afternoon and reached the city after six o'clock. Everything passed off as well as the condition of the weather would allow. The only passenger car being insufficient to accommodate the party three platform cars were arranged with seats. The train was drawn by the locomotive Multnomah and was very neatly decorated with flags, banners, etc.

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY.—A specimen of the genus homo whose name we were unable to obtain was arrested late on Saturday night by Officer McCoy on a charge of larceny. It is made to appear that the fellow had just been liberated from the county jail, where he had completed a term of imprisonment for larceny. By way of obtaining a souvenir with which to recollect the many tedious hours he had passed while immurred within the gloomy jail walls he appropriated a suit of clothing the property of a fellow prisoner. The matter leaked out and was tracked to the culprit who will be interviewed this morning by Judge Denny. Present indications are favorably inclined towards his serving out a second term.

RAILROAD LINE USED.—The line of the Western Union Telegraph was down some time yesterday. In consequence the railroad line has been used instead for passing the usual Associated Press dispatches over as far south as Eugene City, the other line being down north of that point.

MOVING OVER.—So rapidly is the work of filling up Couch's Lake opposite Halsey's hotel going on that a change in the track daily is necessary. The earth is constantly encroaching on the limits of the lake.

JOHN L. STEPHENS.—This fine first class steamship will [illegible] we are informed, for this port from San Francisco with freight and passengers to-morrow.

PRIMARIES.—Beginning at 1 o'clock to-morrow the Republican Primaries will be held in the various precincts [illegible] of which we publish elsewhere.

NO QUORUM.—There was no meeting of the Board of Delegates of the [illegible] yesterday, there being no quorum present.

DUE.—The steamship [illegible] will be due at this port from San Francisco [illegible] with freight and passengers.

We observe some new and improved patent coffee mills at Knapp Burrell & Co's. Their capacity to furnish the fragrant berry in a pulverized condition ranges from a small family up to a first class hotel.

When the Herald a short time ago wanted to give Mr Holladay the space at the foot of G street it was not so much concerned as it now lest he should "gobble up everything." If such a proposition were made now, wouldn't the Herald howl.

COURT IN CLACKAMAS COUNTY.—The special session of the Circuit Court for Clackamas county was opened by Judge Upton at Oregon City on last Monday morning. Up to Friday but little business of importance had been transacted. The Grand Jury had indicted Joseph Lugle for the murder of Jesse V Boone.

McCormick was also indicted for the killing of Tom Montgomery and was on trial Wednesday and Thursday. The jury in his case returned a verdict of murder in the second degree after being out over two hours. He was to have been sentenced on last Saturday morning, but we have learned nothing further. According to the verdict only one sentence can be passed—that of imprisonment for life.

The case of Gans vs Gans has been taken under advisement.

The motion for a new trial in the case of Moore vs Grebo was denied, and judgment entered according to the verdict of the jury.

IMPROVEMENTS AT CORNELIUS.—Improvements at this embryo city are progressing rapidly the present season. Several buildings are in course of erection. Among the number is a large hotel building which belongs to Mr Halsey. It is intended to be constructed and finished on first class principles. Considerable money will be expended this summer there in general improvements.

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES.—The remains of the late Ephraim H Day will be consigned to their last final resting place this afternoon, with the usual honors of the Masonic Order of which he was a respected member. PLANTATION BITTERS!
S. T.—1860—X.
This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates tropical, temperate or frigid it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

For Preserving and Beautifying the Human Hair. To Prevent its Falling Out and Turning Grey
A well preserved Head of Hair, in a person of middle age at once bespeaks refinement of good health and beauty. It may truly be called Woman's Crowning Glory while men are not insensible to its advantages and charms. Few things are more disgusting than thin frizzly harsh untamed Hair with head and coat covered with Dandruff. Visit a barber and you feel and look like a new man. This is what LYON'S KATHAIRON will do at all times. The charm which lies in well placed Hair, Glossy Curls, Luxuriant Tresses and a Clean Head is not costly and irresistible.

The Westward March of the Cholera

[From the Philadelphia Inquirer April 15]

There has been something past the finding out of the most learned in the frightful death list of last winter The work of destruction of human life by disease has not been confined to any one place of our country The smallpox, carrying off its tens of thousands of victims, has not been confined to the United States and England but has ravaged Europe as well Whence it came, or how no one seems to know It came in with the first frost of the fall here, on the continent and in England How fatal has been its visitations may be imagined from the fact that in London alone, since August last, there have been nearly ten thousand deaths from this sinister epidemic. In nearly every city in the Union it has also claimed large numbers of victims, and though it is now everywhere disappearing under a warmer temperature, there is no assurance that it will not again return to us

But the death increase of the world was not incr[illegible] during the last twelve months by the small pox alone From the East the most horrible details have been brought to us of the ravages of the cholera and the British Medical Journal, in noticing England's exemption from the invasion of that plague during the fall, ascribes it altogether to the timely arrival of the cold weather It makes the rather startling declaration that England is now enjoying a respite and nothing more If England is threatened with cholera, certainly this country cannot be without well grounded fear of its coming The communication between that country and this is so general and frequent that a contagion there is almost certain to be a contagion here As confirmation of this a recent report of the New York Quarantine authorities shows that within a period of less than twelve months two hundred and forty three vessels arrived at the port of New York from England having on board persons afflicted with the small pox

As regards cholera it is well known that during the cold season the low temperature arrests the extension of the disease without destroying or extinguishing its power of subsequent activity in the particles of contagion which await the return of a higher temperature The Russian experience of 1847 is demonstrative of this for the epidemic which had become general at the close of that year appeared to have been brought to an end by the severe winter of 1847 48 From the 1st of February, 1848 there were no more cholera deaths, and the outbreak was supposed to be over But in the months of April and May cholera reappeared everywhere in its haunts of the previous year, and spread with frightful rapidity throughout the whole Russian empire

The number of deaths in all Russia in the month of July, 1848, is stated by Dr Chassaud, of Smyrna, in his prize essay just published at Constantinople to have been 80 000 weekly It was but a little while ago that a German ship arrived in New York freighted with cholera, and that such danger threatened us constantly cannot be denied The very air of the country seems impregnated with potash, the scarlet and spotted fevers the smallpox and a contagious throat disease are unusually prevalent all over the Union and it seems as if extraordinary sanitary measures should everywhere be resorted to in order to render the lives of the people secure from the ravages of any threatened epidemic

A Bootblack Adventure

During a slight lull in business in Milwaukee, Wis., two bootblacks one white and one black, were standing at the corner of Second and Francis Streets doing nothing when the white bootblack agreed to black the black bootblack's boots The black bootblack was of course willing to have his boots blacked by his fellow bootblack and the bootblack who had agreed to black the black bootblack's boots went to work When the bootblack had blacked one of the black bootblack's boots until it shone in a manner that would make any bootblack proud this little bootblack who agreed to black the black bootblack's boots refused to black the other boot of the black bootblack until the black bootblack who had consented to have the white bootblack black his boots should add five cents to the amount the white bootblack had made blacking other men's boots This the bootblack whose boots had been blackened refused to do saying it was good enough for a black bootblack to have one boot blackened and he didn't care whether the boot that the bootblack hadn't blacked was blacked This made the bootblack who had blacked the black bootblack's boot angry as a bootblack often gets and he vented his black wrath by spitting upon the blackened boot of the black bootblack This aroused the latent passions of the black bootblack and he proceeded to boot the white bootblack with the boot which the white bootblack had blackened A fight then ensued in which the white bootblack who had refused to black the unblacked boot of the black bootblack blacked the black bootblack's visionary organ and in which the black bootblack wore all the blacking off his boot in booting the white bootblack The fraternity of bootblacks afterward [illegible] and denounced the action of the white [illegible] black as one of the blackest in the pages of bootblack history

A most extraordinary attempt to commit suicide is reported from Sherborne England A man employed as a fencer at Sherborne Castle was found by a woman in her kitchen sitting by the fire with blood issuing from his mouth blood [illegible] upon the floor and his neckerchief on fire She asked him what he had done and he replied that he had tried to blow his brains out Assistance was immediately obtained when the nozzle of a pair of bellows was found lying by his side The old man said he had only half done it his old head was too thick to blow off It seemed the would be suicide had been carrying fuses and rock powder about him and had drilled a hole in the nozzle of a bellows converting it into a kind of small cannon and inserting the end of it into his mouth He had been addicted to drink and had before threatened to make a hole in the water

Cheerful nuptials in one of the Boston police stations are reported Greatly against his will Samuel Thomas was joined to Ellen Dunlea and when he pronounced the irrevocable Yes a female friend of the bride who was in attendance threw up her arms and cried in wild despair Oh heaven he promised to marry me The moment the ceremony was over the husband in spite of himself rushed from the room muttering the word California

A curious phase of the duello has just come to light in the French papers Pending the first siege of Paris two French officers had a quarrel and a duel was decided upon The conditions were left to the colonel He ordered both to march right to the enemy's outpost killing as many Prussians as they could the survivor of the two was to return Soon one of the antagonists was shot and the other carried the body back to the camp

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into their system!
